

Declaration on rules relating to the use of "conflict minerals"
after the Dodd-Frank Act

28.06.2017

FORTEC Elektronik AG purchases components only. We are entirely dependent on our suppliers, as we act solely as a "user" and not as a "producer". On this basis we get into contact with our suppliers and ask them to substitute conflict minerals or to avoid using them completely. These are long-term processes and, as mentioned, we have only limited influence on them.

The alternative would be to stop deliveries of previously approved products to our customers until we get the commitment of our suppliers. In our point of view this is unacceptable due to existing contracts and the associated consequences for the further supplies.

FORTEC Elektronik AG uses no conflict minerals in other processes.

Therefore we ask for your understanding that we will not fill out any form or do any portal entries relating to conflict minerals.

Best regards
